Guidelines for Social Media Participation on UC Office of the President Sites

Overview

The University of California Office of the President invites users to submit comments about the information we post, as long as they are shared respectfully. The University retains the right to moderate or remove comments for any reason.

Posts and comments by individuals on our pages do not reflect the opinions or policies of the University.

Guidelines for Site Use

We ask all users to:

- Be respectful of the rights and opinions of others.
- Stay on topic.
- Add value: Be part of the conversation; don't take it over.
- Don't use profanity, pornography, hateful speech, personal attacks, flaming, vulgarity, nudity or abusive language.
- Keep personal information, such as your phone number and address, out of your posts.
- Avoid posting in all capital letters, as that is the electronic equivalent of YELLING.

Users of this site are subject to the terms of service of the hosts of UCOP social media sites such as Facebook or Twitter.

UC faculty, staff and students also are reminded that they are subject to University codes, policies and terms that may apply to social media use, including but not limited to the following:

- UC Terms and Conditions of Use
- UCOP Principles of Community
- UCOP Acceptable Use of Electronic Information Resources
- UC Statement of Ethical Values
- UC Academic Personnel Policy Manual
